Science fact

DID YOU KNOW?

Tristel believes in transparency. Every claim we make can be substantiated.

When reading studies that compare ultrasound decontamination processes, ask yourself the following:

- Is the study focused on more than just user convenience and time efficiency. What about other essential factors like compatibility, efficacy, and safety?
- Is the study conducted in worst case scenarios?
- How are common problems, such as shadowing, being tackled?
- If wiped prior to automated disinfection, is the wipe used a cleaning wipe or a disinfection wipe?
- Is there potential for microorganisms to repair?
- According to which standards is the effectiveness determined?
- Will repeat exposure cause material damage?

Scientific data is the foundation of Tristel decontamination products. We combine powerful chemistry with proven test methods, which is why Tristel's wiping works.
